Summary

first-year BSc Data Science student passionate about transforming raw data into meaningful insights. I have a solid foundation in Python (Pandas, NumPy, Matplotlib, Seaborn), SQL, Power BI with DAX, and Excel. I enjoy analyzing complex datasets and creating data-driven solutions that uncover key trends. My interests lie in data analytics, business intelligence, and visualization. I'm enthusiastic about solving real-world problems and continuously learning new tools and technologies. Currently expanding my skills in predictive modeling and big data analytics. I'm eager to connect with professionals and organizations that use data for innovation and smart decision-making.
